

Description

Precision Brand Square Key Steel 3/16x3/16" Imperial Steel is manufactured from C1018 steel with a silver finish and includes all necessary hardware. It is designed for precise alignment and secure assembly of mechanical components, offering clear dimensional reliability for trade professionals. The product utilises the Imperial measurement system, ensuring straightforward integration into assemblies that require predictable performance and technical accuracy. Its robust design supports effective component interfacing in practical applications.

Features

- Manufactured using precision C1018 steel for durability
- Polished silver finish provides clean precise appearance
- Hardware included for straightforward installation on imperial specifications
- Engineered for indoor environments and controlled conditions
- Consistent precision performance for everyday operational tasks
- High-quality C1018 steel meets demanding precision requirements
- Constructed to strict tolerances for improved reliability
- Ideal for precision tasks using imperial unit accuracy
